

Aberdeen Harbour is one of the UK's busiest ports and the centre of activity for the energy industry's marine operations in north-west Europe.

With trading links to more than 35 countries, the port is key to sustaining the commercial growth of the city and its businesses and plays a vital role in the North of Scotland's transport infrastructure.

Applications are invited from appropriate marine professionals:

Marine Pilot

Experience in a port environment would be an advantage, however full training will be provided for the right applicant. Ideally applicants should possess a Class 1 Master Mariner certificate and have previous pilotage experience. A competitive package is offered to the successful applicant.
